Join the heart healthy fun on February 8 from 1 to 4 p.m.
Second Family Health Hunt

The library celebrates Heart Month with its Second Annual Family Health Hunt, featuring the travels of our mascot “Healthy Heart.” Admission is free with registration at the door.

Children are invited to follow “Happy Heart” as he travels from booth to booth, learning the importance of a healthy heart and discovering clues for a healthy heart, mind and body. Exhibits, booths, exercises and demonstrations by Port Washington health experts will be a part of the fun.

Join us for a walk through the heart, relaxation and fitness breaks, concentration and focus exercises, vision screening, heart power and brain power challenges, teddy bear clinic, smart foods activities, brighter smiles, Children’s Health Advisory Council, which is funded by private donations through the Port Washington Library Foundation. For more information, call Trudy Friedman at 883-4400, Ext. 118.

“The Day the Music Died”

On Tuesday, February 3 at 7:30 p.m., Tony Traguardo and music/video archivist Barry Fisch present a tribute to some of rock music’s greatest pioneers. The 1960s brought us The Beatles, Rolling Stones and Bob Dylan. Some would argue, however, that 50 years ago this month (February 3, 1959 to be exact) could still be considered “The Day the Music Died.” It was on that day that a plane crash in Clear Lake, Iowa took the lives of three of rock music’s most promising young performers — Buddy Holly, J.F. “The Big Bopper” Richardson and Richie Valens.

While Richardson’s and Valens’ contributions to music have been somewhat lost to time, Buddy Holly’s legacy lives on. His songs have been covered by hundreds of artists, including The Beatles, Rolling Stones, James Taylor, Linda Ronstadt and many more. And Holly is cited as an influence by many of the greatest rock bands of every decade and generation since that fateful day 50 years ago.

Mr. Fisch has compiled an incredible collection of all of Buddy Holly’s filmed appearances, along with footage of the “Big Bopper” and Richie Valens.

The evening’s highlights will also include performance footage of some great cover versions of Buddy Holly’s material and rare documentary films. Finally, the program will feature a look at Don McLean’s classic “American Pie,” a song inspired in part by the 1959 plane crash. You may even want to be prepared for a sing-along!

The Five Forty-Eight and The Sorrows of Gin will be shown on Sunday, February 15 at 2 p.m. See the calendar of events for additional Broadway Theatre Archive screenings.
Art Council sponsors Joni Scully exhibit this month

Joni Scully, whose work is in the Main Gallery through February 26, lives and works in her studio of 30 years on Canal Street in New York City.

She is a painter who observes passionately and then projects fresh and recreated impressions of whatever she sees while still keeping alive the older and more venerable joys of painting: metaphor, color, shape and texture. Her work has been described as surprising and playful, giving the illusion of the naïve and having a profound sense of order.

In her words, “My work is representational. It is metaphoric. I do not attempt to copy reality, but rather to recreate it. I have no interest in sentiment, politics, hidden messages, or illustration in my painting. The painting tells me what to do. It is only about itself.

It is, as well, my desire to create work that gives evidence to anyone who sees it, that it is possible to transcend the mundane, to look passionately at the world around us and to make that ‘metaphor’ that is bigger than life in whatever is one’s occupation. Painting’s greatest reward for me continues to be the startling discovery of a constant new sense of things.”

Ms. Scully’s paintings, drawings, watercolors and prints are in private and corporate collections around the world. She is represented by Holland & Company Fine Art in Bedford (NY), the soon to open Rheah Gallery in South Korea and L’Orangerie Gallery in Greenport (NY).

The Art Advisory Council’s exhibits are privately funded by donations to the Port Washington Library Foundation.

SoundSwap takes you to National Boulevard

On Thursday, February 12 at 7:30 p.m., join SoundSwap host Tony Traguardo for an evening of music featuring Jimi Durso and National Boulevard.

The instrumental music of National Boulevard is infused with jazz, rock, funk and reggae grooves and features flute, guitar, bass and drums. The band emphasizes original music composed by guitarist and bassist Jimi Durso, who has twice been designated a Finalist in the Jazz Composers Alliance/Julius Hemphill Composition Awards in the Small Ensemble Category. Mr. Durso’s transcription and analysis articles appear regularly in the jazz magazine DownBeat.

Drummer Matt Baranello is a versatile percussionist who has performed with the late Eartha Kitt, as well as with Ronny Jordan, Jimmy McGriff and as part of Carlos Gomez’s “Rumbamerica.”

Flutist Karla Harby has played and studied music intensively since 1995. She has participated in numerous seminars and workshops, and her credits include the soundtrack to the movie Slow Jam King. Her principal flute teacher was Linda Boyd, whom she first met at the Music House in Port Washington.

Together, this band swings with a unique style that is entirely their own, even when they are covering standards.

Music Council welcomes Swiss pianist on February 22

On Sunday, February 22 at 3 p.m., the Music Advisory Council welcomes Swiss pianist Louis Schwizgebel-Wang. He will play selections from Mozart and Brahms.

Mr. Schwizgebel-Wang won First Prize in the 2007 Young Concert Artists International Auditions, and was presented by the YCA Series in his New York debut at Carnegie’s Zankel Hall and his Washington, D.C. debut at the Kennedy Center. In the fall of 2008, he gave recitals at Wigmore Hall in London, and in Manchester, Edinburgh and Cardiff as recipient of the Swiss Ambassador’s Award, and appeared as soloist in Gershwin’s Rhapsody in Blue with the London Philharmonic Orchestra. He appeared in the U.S. as soloist with the Quad City Symphony (IA) and gave recitals at Princeton University Concerts, Kramert Center for the Performing Arts (IL), University of Georgia, Jewish Community Alliance (FL).

In 2005 Mr. Schwizgebel-Wang was the top prize winner in the Geneva International Competition, and was awarded the Audience Prize and the “Coup de Coeur Breguet” Prize, which sponsored the recording of his first disc.

Mr. Schwizgebel-Wang gave his first performances at the age of 9. At 12, he represented Switzerland in the 9th Steinway Festival in Hamburg and, at 15, won First Prize, the Prize for the Best Interpretation of a Swiss work, and the Paderewski Prize in the Swiss Youth Music Competition. In 2004 he toured China with the Basel Symphony Orchestra and has performed with the Orchestre de la Suisse Romande in Geneva.

Born in 1987 in Geneva, Mr. Schwizgebel-Wang began his piano studies at age 6 with Franz Josefovski. Three years later he entered the Lausanne Conservatory, as a student of Brigitte Meyer, and earned a “Soloist’s Diploma” at the age of 15.

He currently works with Pascal Devoyon at the Universität der Künste in Berlin. His mother, who is Chinese, and his father, who is Swiss, are both visual artists.

The Music Advisory Council is privately funded by donations to the Port Washington Library Foundation. The Council welcomes the Parker String Quartet on Sunday, March 8 and pianist Jean-Frederic Neuburger on Sunday, April 19. Both concerts begin at 3 p.m.
Welcome to the page for Children's Services. Be sure to look here for upcoming exhibits, programs and articles relating to Children's Services and the Parenting Information Center. Parents: Please comply with the age guidelines for these programs and be prepared to show proof of local residency.

Thursdays, February 26 & March 5 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Register in person or by calling 883-4400, Ext.136
beginning Tuesday, February 10

Unusual times require unusual strategies: It's time to enhance your search and reframe the way you think. Stop sending resumes into a black hole! Move into a new mindset, away from “Who will hire me?” and into “Who needs and can use my services, my skills, and my knowledge?” It's a New Year and a New Economy. There will be new industries and employers to replace the old, and new agencies with different missions. They will need people who know what they're doing. Be Ready! Join us!

Diane Reynolds has been the library's Career Coach for the past year. She has been a career counselor for over 15 years and an outplacement consultant on such projects as Northrup Grumman, Pan Am World Airways and NYNEX. She has a master's degree in counseling from Hofstra University. She currently teaches at The City University of New York.

Love Is in the Air
Romantic Novels for Teens

Check out some of these romance novels that celebrate love with stories of crushes, lost loves, misguided infatuations and of course, romance!

I Need You More Than I Love You and I Love You to Bits by Gunnar Ardelius. Morris meets Betty, and the two quickly fall under the sway of an all-encompassing passion.

The Juliet Club by Suzanne Harper. When high school junior Kate wins an essay contest that sends her to Italy to study Shakespeare’s “Romeo and Juliet” over the summer, she meets both American and Italian students and learns not just about Shakespeare, but also about herself.

My Most Excellent Year: A Novel of Love, Mary Poppins and Fenway Park by Steve Kluger. Three teenagers in Boston narrate their experiences of a year of new friendships, first loves and coming into their own.

The Joys of Love by Madeleine L’Engle. After graduating from college in 1941, Elizabeth pursues her dream of becoming a stage actress, landing a position as an apprentice in a summer theater company where she hones her acting skills and falls in love with an aspiring director.

Ever by Gail Carson Levine. Fourteen-year-old Kezi and Olus, Akkan god of the winds, fall in love and together try to change her fate through a series of quests that might make her immortal.

I Know It’s Over by C.K. Kelly Martin. Sixteen-year-old Nick, still trying to come to terms with his parents’ divorce, experiences exhilaration and despair in his relationship with his girlfriend Sasha, especially when she announces that she is pregnant.

The Smile by Donna Jo Napoli. In Renaissance Italy, Elisabetta longs for romance, and when Leonardo da Vinci introduces her to Guiliano de Medici, whose family rules Florence but is about to be deposed, she has no inkling of the romance — and sorrow — that will ensue.

Vampire Kisses 5: The Coffin Club by Ellen Schreiber. When goth-girl Raven follows her vampire boyfriend to Hipsterville, she discovers a dangerous secret club inhabited by vampires who are feuding over its leadership.

Heartsinger by Karlijn Stoffels. In this meditation on various kinds of love, Mee travels across the country to the court of the Princess Esperanza, singing the life stories of some of the people he meets.

Sweethearts by Sara Zarr. After losing her soul mate, Cameron, when they were 9, Jennifer, now 17, transformed herself from the unpopular fat girl into the beautiful and popular Jenna. Now Cameron’s unexpected return dredges up memories that cause both social and emotional turmoil.
