MEET FIONA DAVIS, AUTHOR OF THE MASTERPIECE

Tuesday, August 14 at 7:30 p.m.

In her latest novel, Fiona Davis takes readers into the glamorous lost art school within Grand Central Terminal, where two very different women, fifty years apart, strive to make their mark on a world set against them. For the eight million people who live in New York City, Grand Central Terminal is a crown jewel, a masterpiece of design. But for Clara Darden and Virginia Clay, it represents something quite different.

For Clara, the terminal is the stepping stone to her future, which she is certain will shine as the brightly as the constellations on the main concourse ceiling. It is 1928, and twenty-five-year-old Clara is teaching at the lauded Grand Central School of Art. A talented illustrator, she has dreams of creating cover art for Vogue, but not even the prestige of the school can override the public’s disdain for a “woman artist.” Brash, fiery, confident, and single-minded—even while juggling the affections of two men, a wealthy would-be poet and a brilliant experimental painter—Clara is determined to achieve every creative success. But she and her bohemian friends have no idea that they’ll soon be blindsided by the looming Great Depression, an insatiable monster with the power to destroy the entire art scene. And even poverty and hunger will do little to prepare Clara for the greater tragedy yet to come.

Nearly fifty years later, in 1974, the terminal has declined almost as sharply as Virginia Clay’s life. Full of grime and danger, from the smoke-blackened ceiling to the pickpockets and drug dealers who roam the floor, Grand Central is at the center of a fierce lawsuit: Is the once-grand building a landmark to be preserved, or a cancer to be demolished? For Virginia, it is simply her last resort. Recently divorced, she has just accepted a job in the information booth in order to support herself and her daughter. But when Virginia stumbles upon an abandoned art school within the terminal and discovers a striking watercolor hidden under the dust, her eyes are opened to the elegance beneath the decay. She embarks on a quest to find the artist of the unsigned masterpiece—an impassioned chase that draws Virginia not only into the battle to save Grand Central but deep into the mystery of Clara Darden, the famed 1920s illustrator who disappeared from history in 1931.

The Masterpiece is a captivating new work of historical fiction from the bestselling author of The Address and The Dollhouse. Fiona Davis is a graduate of the College of William and Mary and is based in New York City.

Dolphin Bookshop will make copies available for purchase and signing. Refreshments will be served. Made possible by the Friends of the Library.
The Friends of the Library thanks the 340 attendees of our 2018 Book & Author Luncheon on May 11 and our generous Sponsors for their community spirit and support for the library.

The Port Washington Library Foundation’s Fourteenth Inspiration Gala

Gratitude unlocks the fullness of life. It turns what we have into enough, and more. It turns denial into acceptance, chaos to order, confusion to clarity. It can turn a meal into a feast, a house into a home, a stranger into a friend.

GALA HONOREES

Maurice Mandel, Thomas Donoghue and Robert Lee Aitken

Maury Mandel settled in Port Washington in 1959, when his late wife, Carolyn, began teaching English at Weber Junior High School. That attachment to the Main Street School led Maury to join the board of Landmark on Main Street and later the limited partnership that became the non-profit owner and developer of the property. In addition, he held the positions of Village Clerk, Trustee, and Mayor of Baxter Estates. Maury also sat on the Community Chest board and was treasurer of the Port Washington Library Foundation and commodore of Kiokierbocker Yacht Club. He held senior management positions at Shears Harrell and William D. Witter before he and four partners founded Shields Asset Management.

Tom Donoghue Since moving to Port Washington in 1972, the library has been an important part of the Donoghue family life. He began by serving on a library community planning committee to determine how the library should position itself for the next century and was elected library trustee in 2008. A graduate of Boston University with a journalism degree, Tom worked in advertising and then joined the Medical Society of the State of New York, where he became the senior vice president of communications. Tom is now the executive director of the Medical Educational & Scientific Foundation and a recent recipient of the American Medical Association’s Lifetime Achievement Award.

Robert Lee Aitken received his BA from Brown University and his law degree from Albany Law School. A ninth generation Port Washington resident, Lee has been a practicing attorney in PW since 1978 and an active community volunteer, serving on the board of the Cow Neck Peninsula Historical Society, the Port Washington Lions Club, and North Hempstead Country Club. A member of the Port Washington Public Library Board of Trustees since 1995, he was president for 10 years and currently serves as vice president of the board.
