Virtual Author Talk with Talia Carner: The Voices That Wouldn't Be Silenced

Tuesday, July 13 at 7:00 p.m.

The Library is very proud to welcome award-winning author and activist, Talia Carner, (who used to live right here in Port Washington), to discuss her latest book, The Third Daughter and the historical real-life struggles that were the basis for her novel. Fleeing poverty, strife and pogroms of Eastern Europe in the late 1800s and early 1900s, over 150,000 Jewish girls who dreamed of "America" fell to the false promises of marriages and jobs by members of Zwi Migdal. Instead, this legal traffickers' union that operated with impunity throughout South America for 70 years, forced them into prostitution. During her presentation, Talia Carner will reveal how the cries of these women, also shunned by the Jewish community, forced her to expose the most shameful chapter in Jewish history. She will also educate the audience about actions that can be taken today to abolish the horror of modern human enslavement in your own backyard. Following her talk, there will be a Q and A session with Ms. Carner, as well as information about book sales. Sponsored by the Friends of the Library.

This is a virtual program available through the Zoom application.

PWPL Goes Green

PWPL has been working with HVAC consultants, T.M. Bier and Associates (TMBA) – a leader in energy conservation and related emission reductions, to evaluate the Library’s heating and cooling systems to reduce emissions and unnecessary energy output. Here is an excerpt from a conversation with the CEO of TMBA and Port Washington resident, Ted Bier.

How did this collaboration happen?

I love this Library so much and former PWPL Director Nancy Curtin was really on board. Her leadership along with the enthusiasm and care of the current Library Director Keith Klang and the Board of Trustees has led to the success we’ve had today.

How has your consulting resulted in a smaller carbon footprint for the Library?

PWPL contributes half the pollution of any other Library in Nassau County because we run the lights, air conditioner, and heating effectively through state of the art, Wi-Fi enabled computer software. The Library lights are used in a minimum capacity. We use natural, outside air to heat and cool the building so extra energy isn’t wasted and we have solar panels on the roof.

What advice would you give to Port Washington residents looking to reduce their summer electric bill?

The most important thing to do is insulate your attic. 30% of all savings you can get in your home will come from this one act. Hot, dark colored roofs get extremely hot and radiate heat into your home. Adding more insulation can significantly help reduce heat transfer and result in cooler ceilings and lower electric bills.

SNAPPER HEAD PERFORMS

Sunday, July 11 at 4:30 p.m.
