

‘PWPL Ahead’

PWPL’s Reopening Workplace Safety Plan

Created by PWPL’s Safety Committee

May 2020

(Revised December 2021)

The Port Washington Public Library (PWPL or Library) Board of Trustees is authorized to take the steps necessary to serve the community under its mission, with the health and safety of the Library staff and patrons as its main priority. Therefore, the Board of Trustees has adopted this Reopening Workplace Safety Plan, as part of a review and assessment of potential risks, effective June 17, 2020 (re-adopted, after updates, on December 15, 2021).

The primary goals of this policy are to safeguard the health and well-being of all our staff and patrons. Our duty is to ensure that we provide reasonable access to Library services while still protecting our employees and community. By taking the measures outlined in this Plan, we will reduce the risk of infection in, around, and on Library property, materials and all equipment used by Library staff and patrons.

People, Place, Process

The reopening of PWPL will occur over four “Phases,” keeping in mind the People, Place, and Process considerations outlined in New York State’s “NY Forward” plan. The timeline listed for each phase will be in accordance with all Executive Orders and other laws, rules, and regulations applicable to the Library. PESH (Public Employee Safety and Health) guidelines for employees to return to work and the Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidelines for best practices to keep the staff and public safe, will be followed.
